I have today completed the inspection of your portable appliances and attach the latest test results in detail for your records. These records are important and I recommend that you keep them in a secure place.

A total of 19 appliances were tested.

Retest date: February 2027

I certify that the appliances marked with green pass labels have been inspected and tested and have been proven at the time of testing, to be safe to continue operating. Failed appliances have been marked with red fail labels and you have been advised that they are unsafe to use and should be repaired or disposed of.

As a reminder, under the Electricity at Work Regulations 1989 (regulation 4) you have further responsibilities in that you should periodically inspect appliances for any sign of fatigue or damage. Personnel should be instructed to visually check appliances before use.

Please note that the work completed covers checks to portable appliances only. The customer should arrange testing of fixed wiring circuitry in line with BS7671 for fixed installations if applicable.
